

HOUSEBUILDER'S BIBLE 9

BY MARK BRINKLEY

The best-selling building book in the UK has reached its ninth edition and continues to improve and win friends. Many people now buy each new edition as it comes out. It doesn't matter whether you're a first-time selfbuilder or seasoned professional this book tells you how to succeed at housebuilding. It explains everything you need to know about managing a build, buying and using materials, finding and employing the right people and doing it all without the pitfalls.

Previous editions have won huge praise. 'It contains all the things the trade know and take for granted, but that non-trade wouldn't know,' said one reader. Another wrote: 'This is a fantastic book for anyone who wants to understand the options when building or improving a property.'

Written in a highly readable style this ninth edition is fully updated and takes account of recent changes in fuel and property prices - including the Government's new 'Code for Sustainable Homes'.

Mark Brinkley is as unique as the book he is famous for. There can be very few small-scale builders with a first class degree from Cambridge University!. Mark's mix of analytical ability and practical knowledge make him ideally suited to sift through the complexities of building and produce a rational, instructive and highly readable book. Mark also writes every month for Homebuilding magazine, speaks at public events and is involved in the coalition government's consultation process on selfbuild.
